The U of T Jazz Degree Program has grown steadily and rapidly since its first year of operation in 1991. We started that year with 22 students, 3 small jazz groups, 2 big bands, and 7 faculty members; this year we have 60 students, 12 small ensembles, 2 big bands, a vocal jazz ensemble, and 21 faculty members. In that first year we produced three concerts, all at the Faculty of Music. In 1994-95 we will present over 50 concerts on and off campus. Wednesday nights have become 'Jazz night' at the Faculty, and all of our student concerts are free. By the way, if you would like to hear our small groups in a club setting, we are presenting concerts at The Rex Jazz Bar (Queen St. just west of University) every Monday night at 9:00 p.m. until Dec. 5. We'd love to see you there. For a complete listing of on-campus jazz concerts (recitals not included) please pick up a copy of 'NOTES' before you leave tonight.

Kenny Wheeler Visits U. of T.. Legendary jazz trumpeter/composer, Kenny Wheeler will visit the Faculty of Music from Mar. 6-10, 1995 as the Smith Visitor in Jazz. His residency will involve a number of workshops and masterclasses with students and two performances. On March 8 he will perform with U of T jazz faculty, Kirk MacDonald, Brian Dickinson, Don Thompson and Bob McLaren in a special concert in Walter Hall (8 p.m.) which will be taped for broadcast by the CBC. His second performance will be with the 10 O'Clock Jazz Orchestra on Thurs., Mar. 9 at 12:10 p.m.. Please see 'Notes' for ticket information.
